Catch 8,000 rpm, fifth gear and a look of envy, all at the same time.
Yeaaaaahaaaaaa!

The 350 street R-5 is that kind of bike: a very sanitary looker with a heart of solid dynamite. Take a look at it. Then take a look at the specs. It's got a 36-horse twin pulling around just 310 pounds of beautiful machinery. It's also got a five-speed gearbox, separate instruments, waterproof brakes and a new frame patterned after our RD-56 road racer. That means the R-5 has handling to match the power and the looks. So turn one on and go see what all the excitement is about.
